

Have a problem, idea or solution to share?

AgritechX is looking for industry-led ideas & solutions

What makes a good idea?

A Real Problem

- A challenge you've faced
- Something that wastes time, costs money, creates risk or makes a job harder than it needs to be

A Practical Solution

- Something you've built, adapted, improved, or tested
- A new way of doing things that works in the real world
- An idea that could help other farmers too

What could you receive?

Selected problem, ideas or solutions may receive access to:

- Advice and support to develop further
- Connections to people who can help test, refine, or scale the idea/solution
- A pathway to future funding and commercial opportunities

AgritechX

Submit your idea:

Submitting is simple. Tell us:

1. Who you are
2. What challenge you are trying to solve or what your solution is
3. What difference it has made or could it make

Keep it simple and brief!

Visit : Proposal Submission to submit

Submissions close

August 16th 2026

for September intake

Ongoing submissions
always welcome

AgritechX

Your idea. Built. Protected. Scaled.

Get involved
AgritechX Launch Event: 30 September

Bring a problem, an idea, or just come and see how it works.

Or confidentially submit now

Got a problem worth solving or an idea already underway?

Most innovation in farming starts with a real issue on the ground. Something that takes too long, costs too much, or just doesn't work the way it should.

Sometimes it's just a thought: "There has to be a better way."

Other times, it's already taking shape - a prototype, a workaround, or a smarter approach you've tested yourself. That's where AgritechX comes in.

What we do

AgritechX is designed to take early-stage ideas requiring a technical solution and turn them into real, scalable opportunities. We bring together:

- Farmers with practical insight
- Researchers to develop a solution
- The know how to protect, commercialise, and scale

We focus on ideas with the potential to go beyond a one-off fix, into something that can be built, protected, and taken further.

How we work

Good ideas need backing, but they also need to be handled properly. You bring the problem or idea, and we help test, develop, and shape it for a share in the benefit. If it has potential, we work with you to take it forward. Your idea remains yours, and we'll agree upfront how it's protected and how any future value is shared.

Simple, clear, and fair.

Why we exist

There's a lot of smart thinking happening on farms that never gets the chance to go further. AgritechX is here to change that by connecting ideas with the capability and support needed to actually build something out of them. That means better solutions on-farm, new opportunities for farmers, and new agri businesses built from real-world insight.

If it's worth solving, it's worth exploring thoroughly. With the right support, it could go further than you think.